I had a horrible experience today while in front of the Madame Tussaud's building. This was my first time there but as I was walking up, a solicitor walked up to me and shoved his CD in my face and I replied "no" b/c I wasn't interested. He proceeded to follow me up to the Madame Tussaud building and called me ugly all because I wouldn't buy his CD. I felt so uncomfortable that I left and didn't get to experience the Madame Tussaud's tickets I paid for Gentlemen, I am working on a first draft of the RFP that will go out in late July for the security contract for the BID. We have plenty of time. However, one portion of the RFP lists the current level of service provided by LAPD, so that the vendor can make recommendations about their level of staffing and services proposed. This description is from 2012 – I suspect it has changed over the last six years. At your convenience, I'd appreciate an update on this section, and then I'll want to share the entire RFP with you for review. We will also welcome at least one member from Hollywood Division to sit on the RFP committee, in an advisory, nonvoting capacity. That will involve reviewing proposals and participating in interviews – August tasks.

Thanks for you help on this.
Kerry

[from 2012 RFP]

Currently the Los Angeles Police Department generally provides the following level of service to the area:

1. Footbeat/Bike Officers: 17 officers from La Brea to Vine from 12:00 p.m. – 10 p.m. and 19 officers from 7:00 p.m. to 5:00 a.m.
2. Patrol cars: 6A37 and 6A45 overlap the BID area and respond to radio calls; work crime suppression and conduct traffic enforcement. These are 24 hour cars.
3. Outreach: A minimum of two homeless outreach efforts are conducted each month with nine officers and a sergeant. Much of this effort is in the Hollywood Entertainment District area, Sunset and Santa Monica Blvd. area.
4. Mounted unit: Occasional presence (usually 6-8 horses with officers) and usually on Hollywood Blvd, or where needed.
5. Special Enforcement units: Consists of Gang Detail (1 sergeant and 10 officers); the Career Criminal Apprehension Unit/Parole Impact Team (1 sergeant and 6 officers); Targeting Aggressive Beggars Unit (4 officers) and the Narcotics Field Enforcement Section.
6. Video Surveillance Cameras: There are ten digital wireless video surveillance cameras installed within the two Districts, purchased by the BIDs and donated to the LAPD Hollywood station for their exclusive use. The original five cameras were installed in 2005 at the following intersections along Hollywood Boulevard: Vine, Cahuenga, Whitley, Highland and Sycamore. In the late summer of 2006, four additional cameras came on-line: Hollywood/Gower; Schrader/Selma; Yucca/Selma and LaBrea/Hollywood. Lastly, in 2009 a single camera was installed in the Sunset and Vine BID at the intersection of Sunset Boulevard and Cahuenga Boulevard. Hollywood Division monitors these cameras from the detectives' area of the station, and also conducts special task force operations as determined by the Captain.

Guests: Michael [REDACTED], Alexandra [REDACTED], Amie A., Fabio [REDACTED], Howard [REDACTED], Richard [REDACTED], Mary (general manager), Wally [REDACTED], Wood and Vine.

Staff: Kerry [REDACTED] and Rich [REDACTED]

- I. Call to Order – The meeting was called to order by John Tronson at 10.05 am
- II. Public Comment – Richard Falzone of Off Vine Restaurant shared the challenges he has been experiencing for the past year with respect to individuals who are transient, displaying frightening and intimidating behaviors, entering his restaurant and impacting his customers. His restaurant is located adjacent to a long-standing homeless encampment on Leland Way. Wally Moran echoed similar concerns associated with running his restaurant, Wood & Vine.
- III. The meeting notes from April 11, 2018 were reviewed. There were no comments.
- IV. Reports
 - A. Staff Report: Morrison updated the committee on developments surrounding the potential location of an interim emergency bridge shelter on the city-owned parking lot at 1533 Schrader, just south of the YMCA. The Mayor had announced during his State of the City address last month that he was setting aside $20M in the city budget to fund at least one such shelter in each of the council districts. Morrison mentioned that there had been a community open house the previous evening that was well attended. Renderings of what the tent structure would look like were on hand for people to look at.

With respect to the concerns raised by the two restaurants who came for public comment, Morrison indicated that if they could help identify people who were habitually showing up to disrupt operations, she could work with local outreach teams to more directly intervene to seek help for people –e.g., substance abuse or mental health services. If there is consistent crime pattern, a stay away order can also be requested.
 - B. Report from Andrews International – Steve Seyler presented his report for the period 4-2-18 through 4-29-18. He pointed out that arrests are up over last year by 138%, foot patrol hours by 75%, business checks have increased 309% and radio calls are down 10%, which is a welcome trend.

C. Partner reports - trends and observations

1. LAPD – Lt. Mike Ling reported that there has been a four percent increase in violent crime over this period last year. He pointed out that because there is greater enforcement within the METRO system, it may be driving some people out of the subway into the streets to commit crimes. LAPD's use of force for the first quarter is up 25%, which corroborates some of what the BID Patrol has reported, with respect to more violent behaviors appearing within the BID on a frequent basis.

V. New Business – Tronson asked the committee to identify priorities and a "wish-list" for what might be incorporated into the new security contract for 2019. The contract will soon go to bid. These are the ideas that were presented during the discussion:

- Greater presence in the District (e.g., possibly through more un-armed bike patrols)
- Later hours – ideally until midnite (perhaps in designated areas)
- Two person homeless outreach team
- More video surveillance cameras
- Hybrid of unarmed plus armed (armed provides back up)
- Additional training needed for unique needs of working within this BID

VI. Adjourn – Meeting was adjourned at 11:30 a.m.

As a covered entity under Title II of the Americans with Disabilities Act, organizations that contract with the City of Los Angeles do not discriminate on the basis of disability and upon request will provide reasonable accommodation to ensure equal access to its programs, services, and activities. Sign language interpreters, assisted listening devices, or other auxiliary aids and/or services may be provided upon request. Street Vendor Leaders in Hollywood to Hold Press Conference

Over Permit Exclusion

WHAT: Hollywood street vendors will hold a press conference to protest the designation of Hollywood Blvd as a "no vending" area within LA City's Proposed Sidewalk Vending Program. Street vendors will then collect petitions of support from visitors and tourist on the Walk of Fame.

WHEN: Wednesday, June 6, 2018 at 5:00 pm

WHERE: Corner of Hollywood & Highland- In front of Forever 21

WHY: On Tuesday, April 17th, 2018, the Los Angeles City Council voted 11-4 to approve a framework to legalize street vending in Los Angeles. The City Attorney is now drafting the ordinance which is set to return to City Council next month in July. The Los Angeles Street Vendor Campaign (LASVC) believes this the right step toward creating economic opportunities for hard working sidewalk vendors. However, we are concerned about the exclusion of Hollywood Boulevard. The "Operating Requirements" (Attachment 3, Page 6) of the program, recommended by the office of the Chief Legislative Analyst (CLA) and adopted by City Council, include a provision that completely prohibits sidewalk vending within 500 feet of Hollywood Boulevard.

Hollywood business groups have claimed that sidewalk vending obstructs pedestrian access to the walk of fame and Councilmember O'Farrell asked for Hollywood Boulevard to be included in a list of no-vending areas. Sidewalk vending has been an integral part of street culture in Los Angeles for many years and tourists visit Los Angeles, including the walk of fame, with an expectation to see and shop from sidewalk vendors. Dozens of vendors have been organizing to support sidewalk cleanliness and pedestrian safety and the LASVC believes sidewalk vendors in Hollywood should be part of the conversation in finding solutions to issues of sidewalk obstruction and overcrowding. Hollywood vendors and allies will be speaking on Wednesday to uplift their stories and call on the small businesses and Councilmember O'Farrell to work together to find a solution that doesn't exclude an entire group of hardworking entrepreneurs.

WHO: The LA Street Vendor Campaign's driving force are the vendors themselves. To support their efforts, more than 65 organizations from cross-sectors in Los Angeles and 400 brick-and-mortar businesses have formed a coalition to advocate for a policy that supports these low-income entrepreneurs.

Media Visuals: Hollywood, Street Vendor and Supporter Speakers; Visual-heavy presentations; Active audience chants and songs.

Hi Kerry!

Thanks again for meeting with us last week and inviting us over for a tour of Hollywood Boulevard. Doug and I really appreciated having the opportunity to learn about your experiences and to also hear from Cory and Mike.

We liked your idea about having a follow up meeting to brainstorm on "enforcement strategies" in hopes that we can come up with some ideas we can present to the Council and City Attorney. As we mentioned, we're a little nervous of inviting vendors to chat about Hollywood when a lot of the discussion has been framed around banning vendors completely from Hollywood Boulevard, but perhaps we can talk frankly and openly and come up with a solution for that too?

If you're up for it, Doug and I could come visit again, and we can invite Carla who leads organizing efforts for the campaign along with a couple of vendors. I'm sure we'll have a lot of common ground and can come up with some ways to give our enforcement offices a little bit more to work with when encountering some that never wants to comply with the law.

What do you think? If you send me a few dates and times that work for you, i can coordinate on my end. (FYI, i'm not available or out of town on June 7 - 8, and June 11 - 14th)

Thanks again Kerry!

New developments today; it appears the suspect they originally thought they had was not the one. Here is the newest story on that.

I can also see if my colleague Doug Smith from Public Counsel can come out. He's been doing a lot of thinking on the details of what an ordinance should look like. (We're hoping the City Attorney sticks to the 60 days too)

Rudy, good to see you last week at the hearing. I am really hoping they can get this ordinance truly drafted in the 60 days they committed to.

I was wondering if you would be willing to come out to the Boulevard to take a walk with me and the Lt. who oversees patrol for this area? They have truly made an effort to address the overwhelming crush of vendors in the tourism zone, and the ACE citation has had virtually zero impact. I'd love to have a conversation with him and you about what could truly make sense. As you and I spoke at breakfast, the law abiding vendors who will go to great lengths to apply for permits and follow the rules will also hope that enforcement works – or they will be overrun by interlopers as well. I have to go out of town for a family funeral next week, but would love to host you here after May 8th?

Kerry

p.s. You may have seen this already, but these are photos I submitted into the council file to document our current conditions. Even with Hollywood being a protected zone, if there is no enforcement, we will be exactly where we are today.

Thanks for sharing the Corporate Cookie story. It's great that his legacy lives on through ACOF.

I'm looking forward to working together on street vending. I'm confident we can find a way to put together a policy that uplifts effective and responsible enforcement while supporting street vendors and brick-and-mortar businesses. I think there are a lot of good actors on "both sides" and we need policy that helps those folks contribute to our city. I think the key is making sure we're empowering our city departments to have what they need to do their job. I'm hopeful that the City Council prioritizes that and doesn't rely on "full cost recovery" as an impediment to putting some solid structures in place. Other cities contribute a bit from their general fund because they see it as a priority.

I also hope we can figure out a way to have constructive relationships with the City Council. It was reassuring to hear that we weren't the only folks feeling a bit of neglect. :)

Let's talk soon!

Rudy, thank you for breakfast this morning – so glad we were able to finally get together. And thank you for listening to practically my life story 😊

First, I was thinking about Corporate Cookie all the way back to the office, and googled this and found this!

I am so inspired – and I know Dora [REDACTED] who runs A Community of Friends, so I am going to follow up with her. The Trieste tribe is going to create a wish-list of things that could be instituted fairly quickly in LA to replicate some of the Italian cultural “guiding principles” we saw in action, and I just feel inspired to find ways to pick up on where we might have already started this work.

And, second, here is my blog – painful to write, painful to read.

TO HPOA Board

We want to bring your attention to an Open House that Hollywood Heritage has invited you to – right after Thursday's board meeting.

As you know, we've been working with them for over a year to bring back home the "Hollywood Miniature" that was created in the 1930's by a cabinet maker. It has been in storage in the Antelope Valley for years. Thanks to Robertson Properties Group, space has been made available for the next year to allow for the restoration of the miniature. It is truly incredible to behold – well worth a peek. And, it is now a special stop on our Historic Walking Tour.

They are hoping to secure RSVP's by tomorrow so they can plan their food and logistics.

You will be amazed – I promise! Hope to see you there.

Hi Miss Morrison,

Thanks for your email, glad to have you back with us. The subjects of the complaint are well know to me and I have issued them numerous citations for unlawful vending. I have not issued them citations for the amplified music that they routinely disseminate while selling water and snacks in front of the Chinese Theater but I do agree that it is warranted and will give us much more leverage in either expelling them or, in the very least, persuading them to discontinue projecting amplified music on the sidewalk areas of the Entertainment District. I will give these guys some attention this week and will arrest or cite them for projecting loud and raucous noise.

Regarding the security meeting tomorrow, I regrettably may have to miss it, I received a subpoena today for a court appearance tomorrow morning. I may be required to stay in court for the duration of the morning which might prevent me from attending. I am very sorry about this interference, I know that it is a big meeting and really wanted to be there. I will give you an update on my status when I check in at court tomorrow morning so I can let you know if I will be in attendance.

Thanks,

Hi Mike and Ben,

Am going through my emails – just got back from a week in Montana. Have received several complaints from the Chinese Theatre re/ a vendor who uses amplification to sell cold water. It is apparently making it difficult for their tour guide to conduct a tour, and it is disrupting their business. I know we may not have much leeway with vending – but amplified sound?

Could someone take a look and see what might be possible? When I landed today, I had voice mail and multiple messages asking if we could help in some way.

See you tomorrow also at the Security Committee meeting.

Lieutenant Ling,

I wanted to reach out to you in regards to Wednesday's joint security committee meeting. It is imperative to have someone from LAPD there to discuss our security for 2019. I discussed this with Officer Thompson and he plans on attending, but I also wanted to pass this thought by you.

Thank you so much and please let me know if you have any questions!

Best,

I engaged with this guy on his Instagram and encouraged him to come to one of our security committee meetings to hear what we are doing to address the issues. He sent me a nice email back—but I think this is his point of view and were not going to get him off it. He doesn't want to be part of the solution he just wants to stir things up.

Also - part of what he posts is true - so it is hard to argue. I have invited him in if he wants to help.
